Program Synopsis

There are many kinds of team building programs out there. The question is:

“How many of the team player actually returned their mindset and belief systems towards achieving the same Vision & Mission of Organization?”

Most of us know that we need to work together; however, do you see your team mate actively playing WIN-WIN-WIN for the Organization, Team and Themselves (or is it the other way most of the time)? Most programs tackle behavioral problems or even skill issues but not many deal with issues of the Belief System, Attitude and Competency. SCOMA seeks to address those issues and tackle the root cause of it.
